iVision Named to CRN Tech Elite 250

List recognizes technical expertise and premier certifications in North America

ATLANTA, March 20, 2011 5pm (EST) – iVision, Inc., has been named to the CRN Tech Elite 250 list – the industry’s definitive list of technology companies with both deep technical expertise and premier certifications. iVision has been recognized as a best-of-breed integrator who has invested in technical know-how and earned premier certifications within the data center and IT infrastructure for North American customers.

CRN Editors worked with solution providers and outside experts to define the most important technical certifications in the market today. By mapping certifications against the key technology opportunities as defined by CRN’s State of the Market, and Midmarket study, the Tech Elite 250 recognizes the companies most committed to helping customers innovate while reducing costs.

“The Tech Elite 250 recognizes an elite group of technology companies who are successfully navigating the dynamic IT channel market,” said Kelley Damore, Vice President, Editorial Director at Everything Channel. “By adapting to new customer purchasing patterns and redefining best practices, these solution providers are delivering the strategies and value customers demand to compete in today’s competitive economic environment.”

Companies on this list have earned some of the most difficult certifications out there from big name IT vendors, including Citrix, Dell, Microsoft, NetApp, IBM, HP, EMC, VMware and Cisco to name a few. For more information please contact Jon Rydarowski | jrydarowski@ivision.com
